Policy for Absences and Make-up Lessons:

For Private Lessons:

If a student misses a private lesson, rescheduling for another time or transferring the lesson to a different day is not possible. However, if a lesson is canceled by the teacher, a make-up lesson will be offered during the Christmas or Easter break or in July.

For Group Sessions:

In group sessions, no make-up lessons will be provided for those who miss a lesson. Additionally, if a lesson is canceled by the teacher, a make-up lesson will be arranged during Christmas or Easter break or in July. Note that the class schedules for group sessions are carefully prepared to cater to our students' various preferences. Once the program is finalized, no further changes can be made to avoid disrupting other classes within our full schedule.

We strictly adhere to our cancellation policy throughout the year. This approach enables our teachers to create a detailed curriculum that ensures the highest standard of music education for you and your children. While we understand that rescheduling might be necessary in exceptional circumstances, we encourage students to maintain a regular routine of learning to maximize the benefits of our high-quality teaching.

Important note:

Please keep in mind that by registering at our school, we guarantee quality services and assure all our customers that all the educators working under AMusEd have been carefully selected and possess all the qualifications needed to teach their respective instruments or classes. For this reason, it may happen that other educators cover a teacher in case of their absence to avoid disrupting the daily schedule of both students and AMusEd. Also, the Director of the school is responsible to decide which teacher will teach each student.
